This Office action is in reply to applicant's response filed on 11/9/2005.

The amendment filed on 11/9/2005 is objected to under 35 U.S.C. 132(a) because it introduces new matter into the disclosure. 35 U.S.C. 132(a) states that no amendment shall introduce new matter into the disclosure of the invention. The added material which is not supported by the original disclosure is as follows: the inserted text (underlined in the marked up amendment) in the paragraph beginning on page 2 at line 23 and ending on page 3 at line 2.

As explained before in the previous Office action of 7/5/2005, the pH buffering feature does not find adequate descriptive support from the originally filed disclosure. The amendatory subject matter is new matter.

Applicant is required to cancel the new matter in the reply to this Office Action.

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claim10-17 stand rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement (see the full reasons of record in the previous Office action of 7/5/2005, page 3). The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

Applicant seems to believe that following the rules for executing amendments automatically satisfies all the requirements for adding subject matter into a U.S. Patent Application. Here, even though the clerical-type rules are followed (e.g. underlined new text, whole paragraph replacement, etc.), that does not change the fact that the added subject matter itself contains new matter, which does not find adequate descriptive support from the originally filed disclosure. The originally filed disclosure makes no mention of a pH buffering agent in general or the specific agents as the pH buffering agent.

Applicant also seems to believe that "readily apparent" information can be added without triggering new matter. The Examiner cannot agree. The correct standard is whether the originally filed disclosure reasonably conveyed the subject matter at issue. Here, the originally filed subject matter relative to the formulation of arsenic trioxide never mentions anything about buffering the formulation. Not once in any discussion or any examples is there any mention of a buffering agent. Applicant discloses on specification page 4, lines 14-19 that "The detailed procedure for the preparation of the composition comprises boiling 1000 ml of sterile water for injection, adding arsenic trioxide, boiling for a further 30 minutes until the arsenic trioxide is completely dissolved, adding sodium chloride and q.s. with water to 1000 ml." Even in the detailed procedure the originally filed disclosure failed to convey a pH buffering agent.

Art Unit: 1616

For these reasons, the Examiner maintains that the claims contain subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor, at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
